Mtandt will provide sales, service and parts sales for the full Valla electric crane product range and lifting related accessories throughout the region.

Paolo Balugani general manager of Manitex Valla said: "I have been following the development and rapid integration of the world of lifting in this part of the world for the past 30 years. In particular now our products, particularly those for use inside factories, are finding more and more applications and requests from companies within the SAARC group. Mtandt is undoubtedly the most suitable and reliable player to handle the Manitex Valla product range, and it will be a great pleasure to work with them."
